Prize Giveaways

Along with participation in an event show, we ask that you partake in the Whimsical Occasions Prize Giveaways with gifts, prizes or certificates that are given away throughout the day at all of the shows. Additional advertising will be provided at no extra charge. Whimsical Occasions will mention your company on numerous advertising spots both during and before every event. Some advertising will included: having your company announced the day of the show by the emcee, your company name and prize emailed directly to brides, vendor spotlights on Facebook and Twitter posts, as well as Whimsical Occasions can provide you with the winner of your prize so that you can contact directly to congratulate personally after the event.

If your company is interested in contributing to the prize giveaways, please check here and list what you are willing to donate, and then return this page along with the booth information contract. You can provide up to 10 certificates at each show location!
